AGAINST THE NUUANU RESERVOIR-

Kumalae, sponsor for the Pauca water job, moved yesterday in conference to cut the Nuuanu reservoir out of the Appropriation bill. Representative Chillingworth, noting the presence of a proposed beneficiary of the Kaimuki pump program, pointedly said: "It's not hard to see what's coming and the influences at work."

It seems to be the effort to force the rejected Pauoa and Kaimuki water clauses into the Appropriation bill, and to make room for them by shutting out the appropriation, demanded by the taxpayers, providing adequate reservoir facilities in Nuuanu.

Where the utility of this scheme comes in we do not know. The Governor may be trusted to veto both the private water items, if they appear in the Appropriation bill, so the defeat of the Nuuanu reservoir project could only mean that, to satisfy the grudges of the Pauoa and Kaimuki people, this city would be left at the mercy of a Honolulu should have an adequate and dependable supply of water, obtained at the lowest possible cost, which is by utilizing a site it does not have to buy. Every citizen, native and haole alike, needs such a supply for his own use, and the city as a whole needs it for fire protection. There is no argument against the Nuuanu reservoir plan; there is every argument for it. To defeat the public reservoir to buy private water supplies at an exorbitant cost, is a thing the Legislature could not do and preserve any name for honesty.

Speaking for the people as a whole the Advertiser expresses the hope that the Senate will stand out, with unshakable integrity, against any change | ful article of domestic economy. of the water situation as the Legislature, up to the time of the conference, had left it. And it is not too much to hope, perhaps, that the House will not go further in an enterprise so unmistakably directed against the best interests of the town.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

The alarms which have been sounded during the past two years regarding the trade relations between the United States and certain other countries of the world find no justification in the figures of our commerce up to this time. The three countries which have been mentioned from time to time as likely to decrease their importations from the United States are Russia, Austria-Hungary, and Germany. A study of the latest figures of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics regarding our imports and exports shows a steady growth in the trade relations with all of these countries, and indicates that our commerce with each of them is likely to be larger in the present fiscal year than in any previous year in the history of our commerce. This is true both of the imports and exports. To each of these three countries our exports are steadily and rapidly increasing, and from each of them our imports are also steadily and rapidly in-

This is especially marked in the figures of our trade relations with Russia in the present fiscal year. The latest figures of the Bureau of Statistics are for the nine months ending with March. They show that our exports to Russia in that period were nearly double those of the corresponding period in any year of the last decade, and that our imports from Russia are also steadily and rapidly increasing, being double those of 1899 and three times those of 1894. In both imports and exports the figures of our trade with Russia are about three times as large, in the nine months ending with March of this year, as in the nine months ending with March, 1894. In the exports the increase has been especially marked in the past year, our total exports to Russia in the nine months ending with March, 1903, being $13,584,-$75, against $7,441,014 in the corresponding months of last year.

In the case of Austria-Hungary the growth is in both imports and exports. Our imports from Austria-Hungary in the nine months ending with March were jarger than in any corresponding period of our commerce with that country, and double those of the same period in 1895, 1898 and 1899. Our own figures of our commerce with Austria-Hungary show imports from that country much larger than exports to it, and this has been the case in our entire record of commerce with that country; though the fact that the official reports of Austria-Hungary show much larger imports of products of the United States than our own figures of exports to it, indicates that considerable quantities of merchandise reported to our custom houses as exports to other countries ultimately reach Austria-Hungary. Our principal imports from Austria-Hungary are sugar, chemicals, glassware and fibers; and the principal articles shown by our own reports of exports to that country are cotton, copper, and mineral oil.

In our commerce with Germany the | week you were out of town."

March shows larger imports and exports than in the same period of any preceding year. The imports from Germany for the nine months are $91,-246,816, against $54,858,440 in the same period of 1894; and it is apparent that for the fiscal year 1903 they will be the largest in the history of our trade with that country. Our exports to Germany in the nine months are $158,742,-047, and for the twelve months will also exceed the figures of any earlier year in the history of our commerce with that country. Our largest exports to Germany are cotton, breadstuffs, provisions and copper. Our largest imports from that country are chemicals, manufactures of cotton, silk, wool,

leather, and iron and steel.

The new monitor Arkansas ascended the Mississippi river on the usual Spring floods, which abated before the steel-clad leviathan started for home. As a result the Arkansas was stalled on the way down and might have stayed there until next Spring but for the inundation which came a few days ago. Now the Arkansas is whirling down the great river, making cuts across lots, dodging fence posts, live oak trees and stone houses and trying to keep up with the flood. It is expected that there will be plenty of trouble when the careering monster runs afoul of the new St. Charles hotel in New Orleans.

SANITATION

Editor Advertiser: In your issue of June 16, under the title "Improving the Town," there appears a letter which has left me in some doubt. Upon its first perusal the frequent reference to sanitation constrained me to continually glance with furtive and lest peradventure, I again fall a victim to a panegyric of yet another use-

I have, however, after much endeavor to elucidate the mystery of the letter in question, come to the reluctant conclusion that the writer is acstitute here nocturnal and bacchanalian saturnalia in which profligate carousal, dissolute lawlessness, and licentious animalism are to be commingled with other corruption of the ancient world I can well imagine the show of being accepted by the Governastonishment of the tourist so graphically portrayed by your correspondent. bell is still discussed as a possible win-With the designs upon our civic virtue so boldly declared, I have no hesitation in believing that the sentence commending the "immortal" canvas of Rome and Florence contains a "t" interpolated by the modesty of a bashful compositor. The continual and persistent relteration to the sanitary conditions prevalent in Southern E 1rope reveals the malignant and machiavellian humor of the writer.

To make my meaning the clearer, in the phraseology of this literate pyrotechnic production, if no more imperative inspiration to sanitary hospitality bewilders the intellect with fatuous dreams of sumptuous plumbing and the lavish profusion of royal trappings, musical pageantry and incomparable miasma (let them remember there are others) yet Los Angeles will perfect plans for Woman's Contentions of so splendid, so gorgeous and so kalel-loscopic a brilliancy that the benighted intellect of the whole Solar System will be dazzled by the effect and resort to that inestimable of all blessings (forsooth) immaculate and sanitary plumbing! He has not done much to attract public Hood's Sarsaparilla attention, although a year ago he managed to get into the papers by administering a rebuke to Professor Ranke, a leading Bavarian scientist, during the course of a lecture to a body of students in Munich. The distinguished scientist is quoted as having made some argument in support of the theory that man had descended from an ape, when Prince George strutted up to the old professor and told him, in the presence of the roomful of students, that he must not make such derogatory statements in future, adding that no matter where the "people" came from the royal family of Bavaria could not possibly be descended from FOR TOURISTS an unreasoning animal, seeing that the Providence to rule.

WINSTON OUT OF THE RUNNING

E. C. Winston is announced as havwary eye to the bottom of the page, ing withdrawn from the candidacy for the office of Superintendent of Public Works. Although he was favored by a majority of the Republican Central Committee, this body surrendered the decision to the Republican Senators, It is said that this turn of affairs was due to the Governor's choice being divided tuated by a misguided desire to in- between Marston Campbell, E. R. troduce to this city the in-"famous Adams, and Eben P. Low. The comfiesta orgies" she so gloatingly refers mittee's second choice being Campto. If it indeed be the desire to in- bell, the abdication of party authority is so much less grievous.

E. R. Adams is the third man in preference with the party managers, and if Campbell cannot secure the Senate support Adams will stand a fair or in compromise for Low. A. J. Camp ner of the prize. Col. Soper would appear to have been a day behind the fair in entering the contest.

MERCHANTS WORK FOR TRANSPORTS

The Merchants' Association committee which is at work to secure for Honolulu regular stops by the United States transports between San Francisco and Manila, is letting no opportunity escape to push along its work. At a meeting yesterday steps were taken to prepare a memorial embodying the action by the association, which will be forwarded to the War Department at Washington.

Secretary Helm of the association received a letter from the Merchants' Association of San Francisco yesterday, saying that that body had forwarded to Washington resolutions heartily endorsing the plan of the Honolulu merchants and urging that California's representatives lend their aid.

There will be a meeting of the Merchants' Association directors soon at which the plans for celebrating Cable Day will be brought up and a suitable series of plans prepared.
